2 MIG Jets Shot Down In Hanoi Raid

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers shot down two MIG17 jets today, blasted three North Vietnamese airfields and lent a hand to U.S. Marines trying to drive dihard Communist hold-outs from the walled Citadel of Hue.

Two Air Force F4 Phantoms encountered the MIGs 30 to 40 miles northwest of Hanoi and brought them down with missiles and 20mm cannon, the Air Force said.

This raised the total number of MIGs claimed downed in aerial combat in the last three years to 110, compared with 40 American warplanes lost to MIGs.

The U.S. Command said that during strikes against North Vietnam Tuesday, Air Force and Navy bombers attacked the airfield six miles southwest of Haiphong, the Bai Thuong field 70 miles south of Hanoi, and the Vinh airfield 140 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Blast Hue Wall
As the battle for Hue continued into its third week, U.S. Marine jets streaked down on the former imperial capital of Vietnam to bomb, strafe and rocket an outer wall of the old Citadel behind which remnants of a North Vietnamese regiment stubbornly held out.

The jets made pass after pass, attempting to blast a path through the wall for the Leathernecks on the ground. But the North Vietnamese continued to lay down heavy barrages of fire on the Marine positions a few hundred yards away. The interior area held by the Communists apparently was still off limits to the U.S. fliers because it contained historic 19th century monuments and the imperial throne room.

Bombs Miss Target
A senior U.S. officer said the North Vietnamese holed up in the Citadel were believed running low on ammunition and other supplies. He said they apparently had managed to hold out this long by getting supplies at night from the nearby north bank of the Perfume River.

The Air Force also announced it is investigating reports of "friendly casualties" when half the bombs dropped Tuesday by U.S. B52 bombers on the closest raid they have ever made to Saigon landed outside the target area.

The spokesman said 100,000 pounds of bombs went astray, indicating three or four of the high-level Stratofortresses made the raid. The target was Viet Cong troop concentrations 10 1/2 miles north of the city, and the spokesman added that even the bombs that went astray landed in an area for which South Vietnamese officials had given target clearance.

It was the first report of a

Pressure Grows To Call Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP) — The hurry-up shipment of another 10,500 combat troops to Vietnam cuts deeper into a strategic reserve of fulltime soldiers which senior military officers say has been dangerously depleted.

These officers, say privately they believe at last one division should be called up from the Army National Guard to fight the strategic reserve of divisions available in the United States for swift deployment around the world.

The question of a call-up of group reserve units is under study and no decision has been reached. But pressure for such a call-up is rising.

Study Buildup
Military officers in the Pentagon express belief further ground force deployments to Vietnam will be necessary and that the current buildup objective of 525,000 will be raised.

This also is under study. A Congress member who declined to be identified said the dispatch of more troops to Vietnam in addition to the 10,500 would be announced shortly. "They're already programmed," he said.

Three days after the Viet Cong opened their devastating city offensive, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told newsmen "we believe that the American forces there at present are adequate."

In the interim, Gen. William C. Westmoreland sent out a call for more ground troops, in view of that offensive and the continuing North Vietnamese threat to attack the Khe Sanh stronghold in northwestern South Vietnam.

Either McNamara was overruled or has changed his mind since his Feb. 1 statement that

Romney-Nixon Issue Is War

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The battle in the New Hampshire primary campaign between Richard M. Nixon and Gov. George Romney of Michigan now appears to be narrowing to a single issue—the war in Vietnam.

"In the main, New Hampshire is a hard line state," said Stewart Lamprey, president of the State Senate and Nixon's fiscal agent. Nixon has been taking a hard line in respect to the war. A top Romney lieutenant, who asked not to be identified, said, "If we can draw him (Nixon) in on a meaningful basis, I am prepared to make Vietnam the issue." And he added, "What really are his solutions to Vietnam?"

He indicated that Romney's aides would argue that "Nixon's view of the war doesn't differ much from President Johnson's." As further evidence of the importance attaching to the war issue in the campaign, the Romney chief said that starting immediately only one highway billboard slogan will be posted for Romney, instead of the four now seen throughout the state. He said it will read, "Romney's right. We must be told the truth about Vietnam."

Until now, the Romney billboards have touched on four separate issues. Nixon and Romney are the principal Republican candidates in the New Hampshire election, scheduled March 12.

The war in Vietnam is the chief topic presented to Nixon in question-and-answer sessions, especially among students. One New Hampshire observer said, "Seventy-five per cent of the interest in the election relates to the war."

School In Fall May Hinge On Escanaba Millage Vote

U.S. Told To Quit Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — A North Korean representative said today there will be war unless the United States gets out of Korea, and the U.S. delegate replied that the North could insure peace by stopping acts of aggression.

The harsh exchange came at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission called to discuss charges by the U.N. Command of armistice violations by the Communists. There was no discussion of the fate of the 83 crewmen of the Pueblo, the U.S. intelligence ship seized by North Korea Jan. 23.

Meanwhile, U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance extended by still another day his visit to Seoul, where he is trying to patch up U.S.-South Korean differences over U.S. priorities in Korea.

The South Koreans have complained that the United States is paying more attention to the Pueblo incident than to the attempted assassination of South Korean President Chung Hee Park Jan. 21 by 31 North Korean commandos who invaded Seoul.

Rear Adm. John V. Smith, senior U.S. representative on the armistice commission, cited the assassination attempt today and said there had been 74 other serious truce violations by the North in the last 44 days.

"The decision whether there is peace or hostility depends upon the whim of an apparently irresponsible North Korea," he said. "Your side can have peace merely by unilaterally stopping acts of aggression. You must stop dispatching armed murderers into the Republic of Korea."

North Korean Gen. Pak Chung Kook glared at Smith and replied: "We don't want war but we are not afraid of it." He said North Korea would match buildup for buildup, blow for blow "and all-out war with all-out war" if it should come to that.

Predict Pickup In Program To Land On Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

March 12 Launch
The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether the Schirra-commanded mission is in fact moved up and whether two manned Saturn 5 flights are attempted this year.

Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, a civilian, will be orbited by a Saturn 1 rocket, a smaller booster than the Saturn 5 which will be used to launch men to the moon.

The official schedule now includes another Saturn 1 launch in this spring for a second unmanned test of a lunar module, the craft that will ferry astronauts between the moon's surface and an Apollo command ship in lunar orbit.

May Ship Test
Although a decision is not expected until March, most experts now agree that the first lunar module test last Jan. 22 was so successful that a second unmanned flight will not be necessary, permitting launch crews to concentrate on the Schirra mission.

The first manned flight aboard a Saturn 5 now officially is not scheduled until the fourth launching of the superrocket. However, project officials have left open the possibility that—if the second Saturn 5 is as successful as the first—NASA may decide to skip a third unmanned test of the mighty booster.

In this event, the Apollo spaceship now scheduled to fly on the fourth Saturn 5 could be launched aboard the third, possibly in October or November.

Another trio of Saturn 5 pilots then possibly could be launched in December for a dress rehearsal in earth orbit of the man-to-the-moon flight.

Careless Smoking Blamed For Death

LANSING (AP) — Careless smoking was blamed Tuesday in the death of a 60-year-old Lansing woman, Mary Beebe.

Fire Marshall Philip Albers said the woman was resting when her bed clothing caught fire. She tried to escape, he said, but collapsed on a pile of fiery blankets she had dragged from the bed, causing the blaze to spread.

Deputy Retires

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Alice M. Diephuis has retired as deputy clerk of the U.S. District in Grand Rapids after 43 years of service. Miss Diephuis began her career in 1924 as an assistant clerk. Four years later she was named a deputy court clerk, said at the time to be one of the youngest in the country.

Senate Trip Expense Publicity Demanded

LANSING (AP)—Recent publicity over legislative trips made at state expense prompted introduction Tuesday of a second Senate measure aimed at requiring senators to make public their travel expenses.

Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, introduced a resolution which would require chairmen of standing and special committees to report every two months the entire expenditure of Senate funds for out-of-state travel.

The reports would be made to the secretary of the Senate on a form provided by him and would be printed in the Senate journal.

The Senate Business Committee could require that such reports be made more often, if it so desired.

The resolution, cosigned by majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, Robert Vander Laan, R-Grand Rapids, and Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, was referred to the business committee for study.

Zaagman said the resolution not only would make public travel expenses, but also would make sure committee chairmen see to it that out-of-state trips are for a useful purpose.

He said Republicans "have been talking about this for a long time," but added that recent publicity over spending on several Senate trips "certainly was a catalyst."

Zaagman said the measure, if approved, might have a limiting effect on out-of-state travel, but added that "we should be able to defend any trip."

His resolution is similar to one introduced last week by Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, which would require that expense reports be submitted by committee chairmen every month.

District Facing Financial Crisis

By DAVE ANDREWS

The Escanaba Area Board of Education said Tuesday night there is a "real possibility" that schools will not open in September if additional operating millage is not passed by voters of the school district.

Action was triggered by Trustee Forrest Henslee, who said that voters have the right to know what alternatives face the Escanaba Area schools unless additional millage is granted.

In a formal statement the Board said that if the request for seven mills in the special election Feb. 20 is rejected then another election immediately would be scheduled for April.

If the request again failed, the Board said it would not have sufficient funds to "employ necessary professional and non-professional staff and there is a real possibility that school cannot open in September."

Cites Editorial

Henslee, quoting an editorial in Monday's Escanaba Daily Press which stated that voters of the district face a choice between "operation as usual and retrenchment" said that the choice is not between "school as usual or retrenchment."

"The choice is between school or no school," he said. "We cannot retrench to the tune of $400,000."

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett, however, was reluctant to go that far. "I don't know that I would agree that there couldn't be retrenchment," he said. "It would involve cutting staff."

The statement was approved by a 6-0 vote. Trustee Wheaton Strom was absent.

The Escanaba Area schools expect to end 1967-68 operations with a deficit of about $90,000 in the wake of last August's defeat of a proposal asking five mills for school operations.

Deficit Could Vary

Budget estimates prepared by Barrett and Business Manager Stephen C. Baltic for 1968-69 operations show revenues falling short of anticipated expense by some $322,000, leaving a net deficit of about $412,000.

The deficit could increase or decrease, it was pointed out, according to the district's tax base, the 1968 state aid formula adopted by the legislature and changes in salary schedules for school staff.

"The best estimate that we can make at this time is that we need seven mills," the Board said. "If the situation developed where we didn't need it, we wouldn't levy it."

Barrett said that about the most Escanaba could expect if Gov. George Romney's school aid recommendations are passed intact by the legislature is about $25 per child. He said that this would mean about $120,000 in additional income.

That figure, however, could be eaten up by negotiated changes in contracted salaries with the district's staff.

Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder, president of the board, debated against the resolution and stronger language which stated that the schools would not open in September without millage approval. She favored the language pointing out the "real possibility" of that happening.

No Way To Balance

She agreed, however, that there is "no possible way to balance the budget" without additional millage.

"We have never been in as much of a bind as we are now," Henslee emphasized. "We cannot cut $400,000 and unless we have money we cannot negotiate in good faith with the professional and non-professional staff."

Trustee Albin Pearson Jr., serving the first year of his first term on the board, said that the first question people

The Area Board of Education and Supt. of Schools Luther Barrett will appear on American Cablevision's Channel 4 in a special program beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday. ask about the millage is "What happens if the millage fails." "If the millage doesn't come, then we don't open school," he said.

The Board, in appealing for passage of the proposal, cited statistics prepared by an Upper Peninsula educator which support its contention that Escanaba is not an "extravagant" district.

According to the report, Escanaba Area ranks 42nd of 58 high school districts in the U. P. on per pupil expenditure; ranks 52nd of 58 in number of students per teacher; ranks 38th of 58 in extra voted millage, and 16th of 58 in allocated millage.

The extended discussion on the district's financial problems came after the board completed work on a rather routine agenda.

Teacher Hired

Richard Stetson, Ishpeming, a January graduate of Northern Michigan University, was formally hired to teach sixth grade at Wells school for the second semester; approval was granted for use of school facilities to the Michigan Education Association Conference next Oct. 3-4 in Escanaba, and diplomas were granted to the following students who completed graduation requirements the first semester: Duane Deno, Dale Johnson, James Provo, Vivian Sturdivant, Michael Weber, and Ronald Winters. A general educational development diploma was awarded to Wayne Arts.

The Board also approved two changes in its scholarship regulations, approved establishment of an Educational Planning Council composed of professional staff, and voted to install new lighting in front of the high school with funds remaining from the 1960 building and site fund.

New scholarship regulations provide "in case a scholarship recipient attending a college or university operating on a trimester basis wishes to attend the third trimester, then half of next year's allowance shall be paid for the third semester with the remaining allowance to be adjusted accordingly," and "in the event a scholarship recipient attends Bay de Noe Community College, he shall receive $175 per semester for each residence year."

Morton Questions Need Of U.S. Khe Sanh Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thurston B. Morton questions the necessity of an American stand at Khe Sanh in northwestern South Vietnam, where an expected Communist attack may ignite the biggest battle of the war.

Morton, often a spokesman for Senate Republicans critical of President Johnson's war policies, predicted in an interview there will be sharp challenges forthcoming in Congress to the strategy of inviting battle at an outpost difficult to supply.

"I think there is a lot of feeling around the country that we had no business getting into Khe Sanh, that we may be asking for it there," the Kentuckian said.

"I don't see what advantage Khe Sanh is to us except for what effect it has on cutting off supply lines from the North to the South. There aren't any people around there to amount to anything," said Morton, adding:

"We ought to give up these search and destroy missions and concentrate on the business of protecting and securing the 80 per cent of the people who live in the more populous areas."

Morton said he thinks the initial U.S. public reaction to the Viet Cong attacks on South Vietnam cities will support President Johnson fighting an even tougher war.

"That's the natural reaction of Americans when they see our fighting men threatened," he said.

"But I think more and more senators are coming to feel that we ought to revise our strategy in Vietnam," said Morton.

"A lot of Democrats who feel that way are not going to say so because they don't want to attack their President in an election year. Some Republicans don't want to attack a President in the middle of a war even though they are uneasy about what's going on," he said.

Morton, a former GOP national chairman, said Republicans seem to be getting their best response by attacking the credibility of the Johnson administration in reporting war developments.

"Everywhere I go, people ask me 'what's really going on out there?'" he said. "Of course, I can't tell them because the administration doesn't tell senators any more than anybody else."

In other war-related developments:

—The Military Airlift Command, charged with ferrying men and supplies to Vietnam, will have increased help from many U.S. commercial airlines.

—Officials in Washington said there doesn't appear to be a new flow of Viet Cong entering South Vietnam's population centers, where bloody raids occurred earlier this month.

State Payments Unfair To U.P., Mack Charges

State Sen. Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) Tuesday urged assessing officers of the Upper Peninsula to support an amendment to Michigan law which would equalize state payments to local areas for state-owned land throughout Michigan.

Mack said the amendment would clear the way for some $1 million annually in additional revenue to county, municipal and school units in the northern part of the state.

Under a law passed in 1933, state reimbursement to local governments and schools in lieu of taxes for land purchased for conservation purposes south of Town Line 16 is based on ad valorem tax rates.

Line 'Gerrymander' On land north of Town Line 16 is a "political gerrymander," Mack said, and that all of the state should be treated equally.

"What I want to know is if we are or are not a part of this state," Mack said.

The senator, who has been mentioned as a possible Democratic opponent this fall for Republican Congressman Philip Ruppe, Houghton, spoke to the morning session of the Upper Peninsula Conference for Assessing Officers at the State Office building.

Sen. Joseph Mack

About 250 county, township and municipal assessors and other Upper Peninsula real estate appraisers turned out for the session conducted by the University of Michigan in cooperation with the State Tax Commission, the State Association of Supervisors, the U.P. Association of County Tax Directors and Appraisers and the Michigan Assessors Association.

Write Legislators Mack told the group that the only way to get the amendment passed is to create public pressure for it by writing state representatives and the governor.

Currently, he reported, the bill proposing the amendment is in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Mack said Town Line 16 runs east and west across the middle of lower Michigan. He said, however, that the law also includes ad valorem repayment for all of Huron County (in Michigan's "Thumb" area) and that part of that county lies north of the line. This shows the gerrymander, he said.

Using an estimated state equalized valuation and the average 1966 tax rate for those lands, J. D. Stephansky, Lansing, chief of the lands division of the conservation department, reported that the state payments under Mack's amended law in 1966 would have been $700,525.

"This compares with $134,544 paid at the rate of 20 cents per acre," he added.

Says Millions Lost For the Porcupine Mountains in the Upper Peninsula, which were not included in the other figures, an additional $238,350 would have been paid.

Mack said the total payments based on current land values and tax rates would be over $1 million per year. Since 1933, he said, over $25 million has been lost to the northern part of the state.

Quiet Protest In Third Year

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Noted as much for their quietness as their determination, a small group of Kalamazoo residents is demonstrating for the third year for peace in Vietnam.

Each Wednesday noon for more than two years, the demonstrators have stood in front of the Kalamazoo Federal Building.

Their hour-long protest each week, during good weather and bad, is designed "to get people thinking about the facts of the war and study them," said Charles Glatt.

Glatt and his wife, Karen, are among the persistent protesters. The demonstrators mostly are Kalamazoo residents who are members of two groups—Kalamazoo College Vietnam Peace and Western Michigan University's Students for Social Involvement.

The demonstrators have agreed on some ground rules, based on good manners and respect for differing viewpoints on some aspects of the Vietnam situation.

Placards lettered with strong statements like "Get Out of Vietnam" are taboo. Instead, they simply hold one sign labeled, "Weekly Vigil for Peace in Viet-Nam."

Other rules are to stand or sit quietly, comply with directions from authorities on where they are to stand, avoid interfering with movement of passersby and refrain from answering any provocation.

"We think we're doing some good," said Glatt.

The group plans to continue the demonstrations until the war ends.

English Popular In Yugoslavia, Teacher Says

Mrs. Vera Pradejan, a teacher of English in her native Zagreb, Yugoslavia, told the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday that instruction in a foreign language is mandatory in most European schools and that English is the most popular language.

Mrs. Pradejan has been in the United States since September on a Fulbright grant to study English and to observe American school systems and customs.

She came to Escanaba Feb. 1 and will go to Washington later this week.

Mrs. Pradejan said that as a result of a long and stormy period, Yugoslavia has been divided with major differences in religion, language, and many others. The southern part is primarily Moslem, with Croatia having a solid Roman Catholic religious background. The Serbians are Eastern Orthodox.

There are even two different alphabets in the country, she continued.

In Yugoslavia, she said, the first foreign language is begun in the fifth grade of primary education, with another coming in the first grade of high school. English is the most popular, she said.

Primary education begins only when a child reaches his or her sixth year. It is compulsory for eight years. Four years of high school and continued education are optional, although more than two-thirds of the students finish their formal education.

Schools are so crowded that two separate classes are taught, one from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., and the other from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. There are also classes on Saturday, Mrs. Pradejan said.

Referring to the form of government, Mrs. Pradejan said that each republic elects representatives, who in turn elect the president. She said that there definitely was freedom of religion and freedom of the press in Yugoslavia, although she wasn't certain what would happen if the president was as openly criticized as here in the United States.

She finished by saying that only the poorest of families in her country lacks a television set, and that her favorite programs are Perry Mason and Bonanza. She also had popcorn on Sunday night in Escanaba for the first time in her life, and is hoping to find a way to get the delicacy started in her homeland.

May Need More Taxes: Harvey

City Manager George Harvey told the Escanaba Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Tuesday at the House of Ludington that city taxes went up 14 per cent in Escanaba last year because the city went to state equalized value in assessing.

He said the city didn't reduce the tax rate when it increased the assessments because it wanted the extra income.

He said it is too early to know yet whether taxes will go up again this year as the city is only now negotiating with its employees on wages and only now planning its capital investment program.

There are some offsets for the increasing cost of city government, he said. The city will be receiving new income from the state income tax and there will also be increased income from the state gasoline and weight tax.

Escanaba is more fortunate than most cities, said Harvey, because property taxes supply only one third of the city's general fund. Another third comes from earnings of the city's electric utility, while the school system has to rely upon the local property tax and state aids.

Tax exemptions are an increasing problem, said Harvey. The city now has $55,000 due from the state in payment for revenue lost through senior citizen tax exemptions and there is no money to pay the debt until the Legislature appropriates some.

Harvey said that the city has a request for survey and planning funds filed with the federal government, but that an urban renewal project for the downtown area will take 5 to 7 years. If private efforts now underway under sponsorship of the Escanaba Industrial Foundation and Escanaba Chamber of Commerce succeed, said Harvey, he sees no reason for urban renewal.

The private efforts of the Redevelopment Services, Inc., aim at commercial financing of new store layouts to anchor the downtown between 8th and 14th Streets along Ludington St.

Bink Candidate In Council Race

Robert "Bob" Bink of 1100 7th Ave. S., today announced that he is a candidate for the City Council in the election to be held April 1.

The young businessman's announcement brings to five the number of candidates in the contest for three seats on the Council.

The terms of Councilmen George Rusch, H. George Nelson and Cecil Chase are expiring this spring. Rusch announced that he will not seek reelection; Nelson is a candidate; and Chase has not yet announced his decision.

Candidates besides Bink and Nelson are Francis "Bill" Lancour of 1310 Stephenson Ave., Norbert C. Murphy of 505 S. 13th St., and Ovid Provo of 800 Stephenson Ave.

Robert Bink

Active also in the Knights of Columbus, he is a past officer and for the past two years has been Council activities chairman. He is also a member of the K of C Third Degree initiation staff.

Another program Bink participates in is the Badger Blood Bank. Through his efforts many pints of blood have been pledged.

Bink is married to the former Mildred Luft, and is the father of two children, Laurine and Michelle.

"I have been involved in community affairs and interested in civic improvement. Today I look forward to being a councilman so I may more actively work to improve Escanaba for our senior citizens, our young, active, and middle-aged citizens, our teenagers, and our citizens of tomorrow," Bink said.

Candidates for the City Council have until 20 days in advance of the election to file nominating petitions to assure their names appearing on the ballot. The petitions may be obtained from the office of City Clerk Don Guindon.

He entered Northern Michigan University in 1959 and while at the University held the position of treasurer and president of the Newman Club, as well as regional director. Upon graduating, he was honored with enrollment in the John Henry Cardinal Newman Honorary Society. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Returning to Escanaba, he began employment with the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. as sales manager. At the present time he also holds the position of secretary-treasurer of that corporation.

Active in civic affairs, Bink has been a member of the Escanaba Area Jaycees since February of 1964. As a Jaycee, he has been secretary for one year, as well as president. At the present time he holds the position of state vice president for the Michigan Jaycees. He has been chairman of the Distinguished Service Awards Banquet in 1965 and 1966, and is presently chairman for the Miss Delta County Queen Pageant.

Civic Affairs
Bink was the organizer of the newly formed Optimist Club of Escanaba, and was recently elected as the first secretary of that club.

Mrs. Niemann Taken By Death

POWERS—Mrs. Walter A. Niemann, 70, of Powers, died at the Women's Hospital, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor where she had been a patient since Dec. 14.

The former Grace Lawrence was born Aug. 24, 1897 in Powers and was married to Walter Niemann in Chicago in 1947. She was a member of the Hermansville Methodist Church. Mrs. Niemann had resided in Powers for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Niemann graduated from the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in 1920 and served as director of nursing for the Newton Health Dept. in Massachusetts and the Cook County TB Institute, Chicago. She received her B.S. degree from Columbia University and her M.E. degree from Boston University.

She is survived by two brothers, Thomas of Two Rivers, Mich. and Robert of Perronville; two stepsons, Dr. Walter Niemann and John Niemann of Ann Arbor. Her husband died in December of 1967.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of the Kell-Tondin Chapel of Spalding, will be announced later.

CONGRESSMAN Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) spent a busy day in Delta County Tuesday addressing student groups and visiting St. Francis Hospital, where he is pictured in the radiology department with the class of radiological technologists in training there in the hospital's school, one of only two such approved institutions in the Upper Peninsula. Student Queries On War To Ruppe Mirror Adults

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) addressing school assemblies at Gladstone and Rapid River High Schools on Tuesday, said student questions indicated that the war in Vietnam is at the top of their interest in government affairs.

Students reflect the thinking of their parents, Ruppe believes, and so their questions indicate the state of the adult mind.

American soldiers, Ruppe said in answer to questions, are winning the war wherever they fight, but the corruption in the military and civil government of South Vietnam may cause us to reassess our commitment in the war there.

We will call upon the government of our ally, South Vietnam, he said, to improve the leadership of its military forces, and to gain the loyalty of the people of South Vietnam. "We can win the war if South Vietnam does this," said Ruppe.

"But what if it doesn't? If we arrive at a point where the government cannot command the loyalty of the people we may have to reassess our position there.

"In time they must straighten out their house. We should not offer an open-end commitment. Our war in Vietnam has had strong support from Thailand and we stiffened the independence of Indonesia with a population of 100 million, but we still have a long way to go and the present progress in the war is not sufficient.

"We could win militarily and stay for 15 years. It is a horrible predicament.

"There have been two main points in the escalation of the war. President Eisenhower sent men to train technical units, but the only man we lost then was killed when he fell out of a jeep.

"President Kennedy acquiesced or participated in the destruction of the Diem regime and we accepted its successor so we made a commitment and sent 16,000 men. The second escalation came with the Tonkin incident and the bombing of North Vietnam.

"Once committed, national pride is involved and it is hard to withdraw. SEATO called upon us only for consultation in the trouble there, not active response like our commitments under NATO.

"We committed our power slowly and North Vietnam was able to meet pressure for pressure. They now have more air defenses than Germany had in World War II.

"The saddest part of the war is our lack of unity. We are not sold on why we should be there. It is tough on youngsters. We have virtually no complaints by the veterans returning from Vietnam. They're apt to be hawkish.

"We are not committed enough to social change to pay for it and we are not committed enough to the war to pay for it.

"We have had 500 border incidents in North Korea in the last year. President Johnson has given good handling to the seizure of the spy ship Pueblo. It embarrasses us because we cannot do much without going to nuclear warfare. Our loss in the incident has been in prestige and in 10 years of technology in the Pueblo's equipment.

College Offers Feature Film To Students, Public

Bay de Noc Community College will offer a feature film titled "The Raven" on Thursday evening at 8 p. m. in the College student center.

The film stars Vincent Price, Peter Lorre and Boris Karloff, in a comedy adaption of Edgar Allan Poe's famous story. Poe's story is a classic horror tale of three sorcerers living in a primitive era, matching powers and magic against one another. The result is high comedy.

This offering is part of the 1967-68 lecture-comedy-film series and is presented to the public as a continuing service. This year's concert film programs were selected by the students and faculty, and are intended for their entertainment. The public is invited to attend.

The series will continue on April 2 with a lecture by Dr. Sidney Cohen, noted researcher on the drug LSD. He will discuss the hallucinatory drug and the physiological, psychological, and moral issues surrounding its use.

It is anticipated that Dr. Cohen's discussion of LSD may appeal to a larger number of persons than the college student center is able to accommodate, and interested persons may request tickets from the college. There will be no charge.

School Millage Given Support

Escanaba Senior Citizens, the Delta County Democratic Committee Executive Board, and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors today announced they are supporting the Escanaba Area Public Schools' bid for voter approval of operating millage.

Directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, voted to support the Board of Education request for additional school millage in the election to be held Tuesday, Feb. 20.

William Fodor, chairman of the Education Committee, presented a summary of that committee's study of the school board's request for an additional 7 mills for two years and recommended that the Chamber Board support the millage request after a study of the facts and figures presented by Supt. of Schools Luther Barrett.

The Senior Citizens Committee of the Chamber, meeting Tuesday, also recommended that the Board of Directors support the millage request.

The Executive Board of the Delta County Democratic Committee Tuesday evening unanimously passed a resolution supporting the upcoming millage tax proposal for emergency financing of the Escanaba Area Public School system. Elmer E. Erlandsen is chairman of the executive Board.

The resolution followed a lengthy discussion in which the emergency nature of the millage proposal was emphasized, as was the fact that, historically, the Democratic Party has always strongly supported legislation at all governmental levels for the advancement of education.

The Board expressed a hope that Democrats throughout the school district would give the millage proposal their votes, since failure of the proposal would further weaken the educational system and deny to the youth of the community the fullest measure of educational opportunity.

The Board also pointed out that, despite the projected industrial expansion for Escanaba, with additional employment opportunities, parents from other areas will be reluctant to move into a community with a weakened or troubled educational system.

St. Joseph's High School class of 1943 has selected Saturday, June 29, as the date for its 25th anniversary reunion. The event will be at the Dells. The committee asked for addresses for Tom C. Floyd J. Forvilly, 2107 5th Ave. S., pleaded innocent and trial was set for April 8.

Future Library Site Is Endorsed

A triangular area near the State Office Building on 1st Ave. S. — once occupied by the Delta Court House and jail — is favored by the Carnegie Library Board as the site for a new public library facility.

This consensus was arrived at by the Library trustees at a regular meeting Tuesday night, following a discussion in which other possible sites were considered and rated less desirable. The City Planning Commission will be informed of the Library Board's recommendation.

The Board is directing public attention to the earlier hours of opening the Library: On weekdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. except Saturday, when the hours will be 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

There was announcement also of "Amnesty Week" to be held in mid-April when overdue books may be returned to the Library without fine or penalty. Books overdue from any library, books that are soiled, or that are overdue for no matter how long will be received without penalty.

The monthly report of book circulation at the Library showed an increase of 369 — from 7,995 a year ago to 8,364 for January this year. This increase was noted as occurring prior to the inauguration of morning hours of service at the Library.

Meeting with the trustees were Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, library consultant; Charles Harper, library branch director; and Ralph Secord, director of the Mid - Peninsula Library Federation, in a discussion of the plans of the Federation for the area.

Second presented information about the operations, goals, services, and financing of the Library Federation.

bombing error by the big B52s in nearly three years of operations over South Vietnam, but most of their strikes have been against enemy-controlled areas.

North Vietnamese gunners slammed 200 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortar into Khe Sanh in a 24-hour period, killing one Marine and wounding nine others. But there were no ground attacks that could signal the start of the big push the Communists are expected to make to drive U.S. forces from South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces.

Big Bay Plans 'Open Houses'

GARDEN — The Big Bay de Noc Schools will host "open house" programs for parents Tuesday, Feb. 20, at the Garden elementary school, Thursday, Feb. 22, at the Cooks elementary school, and Thursday, Feb. 29, at Big Bay de Noc High School at Nahma.

Supt. of Schools Larry Lundell reported that in elementary schools the programs will run from 7 to 7:30 p. m. and would feature teacher discussions of course material covered and also material scheduled for the remainder of the school year. Appointments for parents will be scheduled from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

Lundell said the high school program would begin with registration at 7 p. m. Teachers will be in their classrooms for some individual consultations. From 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., a regular class day will be conducted with 20-minute periods.

Parents can attend the same classes their son or daughter attends during the day, Lundell said. Teachers will distribute individual criticism sheets of each student and discuss course material.

During study hall periods, coffee will be served and Lundell will explain what is meant by "credits" and the different curriculums students can follow.

U.S. Emissary Not In Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources said today that U.S. diplomatic approaches to North Vietnam for peace talks have been made through third parties, but denied an American went to Hanoi as a Presidential emissary.

Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., said in Chicago that a national of another country had been in the North Vietnamese capital exploring peace talk possibilities in the United States' behalf. He did not name the envoy.

Another published report, attributed to a congressional source, said an American emissary had gone to Hanoi.

White House press secretary George Christian said, when asked about the Pucinski report, "I have nothing to add to what Secretary (of State) Rusk has said about diplomatic efforts."

The latest U.S. probe began early this year after North Vietnam, shifting from its previous position, said it "will" enter into negotiations if the United States ends the bombing of the North.

Physician Fined $3,000; Failed To File Tax Return

DETROIT (AP) — A Pontiac physician was fined $3,000 in U.S. District Court Monday for "willful failure" to file federal income tax returns for 1961 through 1963.

The physician, Dr. W. P. Richards of Birmingham, also was placed on two years probation and ordered to cooperate with the International Revenue Service in paying the amount he owes.

The IRS said Dr. Richards also failed to file a 1964 income tax return. Civil action will be undertaken to recover taxes and penalties totaling $36,462 plus interest, for 1961 through 1964, the IRS said.

Dr. Richards had pleaded guilty to the charges for 1961 through 1963 but before sentencing changed his plea to no contest, the IRS said.

Early February Car Sales Drop

DETROIT (AP) — Car sales in the United States, after writing a strong finish to the end of January, dropped off sharply during the first 10 days of February.

Sales during the February 1-10 period were down 24.5 per cent from the last 10 days of January but were up 9.7 per cent from the first 10 days of February 1967, when sales were also slumping.

Based on reports released Tuesday by the four major auto-makers, 186,577 cars were sold in the first 10 days of February, compared with 170,052 during the same period a year ago and 247,200 during the last 10 days of this January.

The industry sold an average of 20,730 cars on each of the nine selling days during the period just ended, compared with an average daily rate of 24,265 for the entire month of January.

'Rocks' Group Gets Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newly appointed Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore Advisory Commission met here with Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall for instructions and a briefing on the 39-mile lakeshore on the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

John P. Farrell, chairman of the commission, said its function would be largely that of liaison between the National Park Service and local citizens. Farrell said the commission would tell the park service of "any gross feeling within the community that what is being done is not the right thing," and would try to maintain understanding of the park service and the park itself within the community.

He said no cost figures were raised in Monday's briefing on plans for the area. Exact boundaries for the area have not yet been determined, he added.

The briefing included proposals for the development of roads and visitor facilities.

Farrell is an associate professor of geography at Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

(He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Farrell, Lansing, and his wife is the former Judith Shaw of Escanaba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaxter Shaw.)

Schweigert And Davis Ask License For Snowmobiles

LANSING (AP) — Two northern Michigan legislators said today they plan to introduce bills to license and regulate snowmobiles and to charge fees to be used for state snowmobile trails.

Rep. Robert Davis, R - St. Ignace, said he and Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, were sponsoring the legislation at the request of the Michigan Snowmobile Association.

Davis said his measure would charge snowmobile operators a $5 fee each three years, with the money being earmarked for development and maintenance of trails on state lands.

The vehicles would be required to bear identification numbers at least three inches high, and to have at least one headlight and taillight and adequate brakes.

Another section, Davis said, would require operators traveling along roads or highways to stay at least 10 feet from the plowed shoulder if possible. Snowmobiles would be banned from expressways.

Railway Unions Ask Seaway Toll Hike Result Study

OTTAWA (AP) — A study of the financial operations of Canadian shipping companies to determine the likely effect of higher tolls on the St. Lawrence Seaway was urged Tuesday by railway unions.

The Canadian Railway Labor Executives' Association said in a brief to the Cabinet that the Canadian Transport Commission should be given powers to carry out such a study.

The association, representing all 18 railway unions, has long advocated an increase in seaway tolls that would bring the charges closer to covering the operating cost of the waterway, including its annual debt payments.

Life For Murder

PONTIAC (AP) — Paul McDonald, 40, of Pontiac, was sentenced today to mandatory life imprisonment for first-degree murder in the gunshot slaying of his mother-in-law. McDonald was convicted last month of killing Mrs. Arthur Falls, 49, in her Avon Township home. He was sentenced by Judge William R. Beasley of Oakland County Circuit Court.

Valentines Vary With The Times

By JANET MARTIN

It is not generally known, but the origin of our lovely and sentimental Valentine's Day can be traced all the way back to a pack of wolves . . . the four legged kind, that is.

Researchers have learned that what is now our heart holiday was not at first a day to honor the gentle Christian Martyr, St. Valentine.

Earlier in pagan Rome, a feast called Lupercalia was held each year in the middle of February to pay homage to the god, Luperus, who guarded livestock and shepherds from attack by marauding wolves.

During part of the celebration, young Roman warriors drew names of young women from helmets. A girl who was thus chosen by chance became, for the following year, the sweetheart of the soldier who had picked her name . . . sort of a classical version of going steady.

Honor Martyrs

When Rome became a Christian city, such goings-on were not countenanced by authorities, but the holiday was kept and changed to honor the Christian martyrs, particularly, St. Valentine whose birthday fell at that time of the year.

The drawing was also retained as a part of the celebration, except the names picked by chance were those of saints. For a year following, the religious participant attempted to emulate the life and attributes of the saint whose name he had chosen.

As the centuries passed, the holiday remained a religious one, but it also became a day for bestowing small gifts and mementos on close friends and the girls next door.

In Medieval England, the day took on the aspect of a contest-for when two people met, the first to shout, "Tis St. Valentine's Day," was entitled to receive a gift from the other person.

Valentine's Day cards first appeared at the beginning of the Eighteenth century. The oldest known card dates from 1710. It was made in Germany and bore the picture of a turtle dove, under which was written in ink, the message, "Greet my love, 1000 times."

Until the Industrial Revolution, which made possible the mass production of cards, Valentines were an individual creation, with loving messages carefully written with a goose-quill pen.

For the less imaginative, pamphlets were available entitled "Polite Valentine Writers." A loving but inarticulate swain would copy out a message appropriate to his romantic situation and to his profession or trade as well.

Overstuffed

During the Victorian era in England, Valentines became like the furniture of that period, — overstuffed. Lace, feathers, fringe, waxed leaves and flowers were used to decorate the often perfumed cards and the sentiments expressed were as a 10 year old boy might say — just plain mushy. Comic Valentines of that era also were over-extravagant in vulgarity and insults.

By 1900, American card publishers felt that their customers were disgusted with both plushy and tawdry Valentines, and produced simple cards with messages more friendly than romantic.

In the Roaring Twenties, Valentines again became decorative, but confirming to the emancipated aura of the decade, the messages were breezy rather than sentimental.

Symbols

Through all the changes in style and fashion, the pictorial symbols on Valentine cards have remained constant — hearts, cupids, cooing birds, lovely ladies and bashful beaux. But today there is no set "style" in Valentines. We can choose the simple, ornate, bantering, intellectual, soulful or the "guess who" variety. The perfect Valentine for every taste is available.

Yet beyond modern-day multiplicity of cards and sentiments, when we write the name and address on the Valentine chosen for that one "certain" person, we are saying what Valentine-senders have been saying (and hoping) down through the centuries, simply: "Oh Valentine, Please be mine"

Computer Provides Returnable Husbands

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — I am 48-001-947 and to a computer that means love.

For hundreds of us observing another Valentine's Day on the brink of spinsterhood, it means an endless string of bachelors who are returnable, exchangeable and, believe it or not, refundable.

The source of all this good news is Computer Matching International, Inc., which proposes to find the perfect man for you and me, or our money back. It's a proposition hardly any of us at 25, or a bit older, can afford to turn down.

Warranty

The idea is to match men and women who are compatible mentally, physically and emotionally. We all have 50 areas of compatibility, it seems, and when 30 of your areas match 30 of his areas, zap! it could be love.

Computer May Put Finger On Risky Drivers

LANSING — Michigan drivers convicted more than once for a driving infraction are more likely to have accidents than those without convictions, according to a report given Tuesday to the Michigan State Safety Commission by William L. Carlson of a University of Michigan Highway Safety Research Institute team.

For younger violators (aged 20-25) speeding convictions are especially significant, the researchers noted. Those with speeding convictions had twice as many accidents as young drivers with no convictions. But — contrary to common belief — young drivers without convictions had no more accidents than other age groups.

The HSRI researchers report:

- 322 drivers with two or more convictions averaged an accident every eight years.
- 243 drivers with only one conviction or none averaged one accident every 15 years of driving.

But the average for 506 drivers with no convictions was only one accident for each 39 years of driving.

"The objective of the overall research program — the first step of which is reported here — is to create a mathematical model by which groups of problem drivers can be identified from their driving records.

"Because of the complexities of characterizing human behavior, it is unlikely that the model will be able to predict individual problem drivers. However, if problem groups can be identified, then countermeasures can be concentrated where they should have the highest payoff."

The HSRI researchers stressed their data was preliminary so strong conclusion can't yet be drawn. They are confident enough of the technique, however, to want to apply it to larger groups of drivers — eventually all in the State.

ed preliminary results of a project aimed at predicting through mathematics who is likely to have an accident. Their initial study involved the driving records of 1071 Michigan drivers.

Predicting accidents for groups of problem drivers would permit action to be taken to help prevent their accidents, they point out — if the groups can be identified.

Groups of problem drivers probably can be spotted quickly and automatically with the new U-M computer program to examine driving records.

The power of the computer program lies in its ability to detect and automatically sort out single factors that can predict accident experience, plus its ability to spot "interactions" — combinations of factors that singly don't reveal much but which together do serve as predictors.

Its value lies in its capacity to sort out some of the complexities of the problem; some combinations are strong predictors.

Pressure Grows To Call Reserve

U.S. forces in Vietnam are adequate.

Numbers Misleading

Civilian officials at the Pentagon dispute the idea U.S. military strength is being stretched perilously thin. They say there are nearly one million men — not counting reservists — in uniform in the United States who could be drawn on for overseas deployment.

But senior officers say such numbers are misleading, since a large part of this total is in basic or other training or performing rear-area functions.

Key elements of the strategic reserve, these officers say, are the combat-ready regular Army and Marine divisions in the United States.

There were 10 such divisions in this country in July 1965 when President Johnson ordered a major build-up of American ground forces in Vietnam. Eight of them were Army divisions, two were Marine.

There are four Army divisions in the United States — and one of them is losing a brigade of highly trained paratroopers to the Vietnam war.

The Army has begun to form another division, the Sixth Infantry, at Ft. Campbell, Ky., but this outfit will not be combat-ready for about nine months.

After the new deployments to Vietnam, the Marines will be down to a little more than one division in the United States.

Marine officers long have urged a call to active duty of the Fourth Marine Division, the corps' reserve element.

The Marines claim their reserve division and its associated air wing could be ready for deployment about 30 days after call-up.

This combined ground-air unit totals about 48,000 men.

The Army has a 150,000-man force of first-line reservists and guardsmen who for two years have been undergoing extra training and are supposed to be fit for deployment eight weeks after being mustered.

Nahma Selected Graduation Site

GARDEN—The Big Bay de Noc Board of Education has voted to hold 1968 graduation exercises at the Nahma gymnasium.

Supt. of Schools Larry Lundell discussed problems some students have with passing required subjects and the humiliation involved in not being able to participate in graduation ceremonies.

The Board of Education decided that if a student spends four years of high school with his class and has worked to the best of his ability he or she will be allowed to participate in graduation ceremonies and will receive an attendance certificate.

If the student completes the required classes in the future he would then receive a diploma, the Board said.

Lundell and Carl VanReMoortel will leave this week for Lansing to meet with state officials to discuss bonding for the proposed new school.

The Marquette Iron Rangers snapped a three-year jinx at the Mayo Memorial Arena in Rochester by winning its first game in history in the mini-sized rink, 6-2. The Rangers split with the Hawks in a United States Hockey League twin bill, losing the other weekend contest by a 6-5 margin.

Former Eskymo athlete Paul Miller clicked for three field goals in a losing cause as the Northern Michigan University basketball team bowed to Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti, 92-72. A crowd of 5,130 fans, largest ever to see a game in EMU's Bowen fieldhouse, watched as Eastern hit 58.3% from the field in the first half for a 46-29 lead at the intermission.

A pair of free throws by veteran guard Roger Norkoli with 1:28 remaining in the game gave Wakefield a 75-73 nonconforming verdict over Houghton. Norkoli, former Newberry ace, tossed in 10 field goals and hit 10 of 16 from the free throw line for 30 points.

Dave Vertanen, former Rock cage star, set a new single game scoring record for Suomi College by pouring in 49 points in a 140-69 victory over Immanuel Lutheran College. Vertanen rang the bell with 21 field goals and seven free throws. Larry Lippens, a freshman from Rock, contributed 12 points for the winners.

Ashland, newly crowned champion of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference, made good use of the free throw line in registering a 72-59 verdict over Ironwood. The teams were even from the free throw line with 23 goals, but the Oredockers flipped in 26 of 40 opportunities from the charity stripe for their margin of victory. Ironwood made 13 of 24.

Michigan Tech put a halt to a seven game losing streak in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference by defeating Minnesota-Morris, 84-72, at Sherman Gym in Houghton. Ted Wittig led a balanced attack for the Huskies with 24 points. Dane Dominici, former star athlete at Iron River, contributed six.

Celtics Jolt Piston Five

By The Associated Press

How does a basketball team that's leading 87-83 with four minutes left in the third period wind up losing 127-115.

Maybe the Detroit Pistons don't really know, but that's what they did Tuesday night in a National Basketball Association contest against the Boston Celtics.

For one thing, the Celtics struck for seven straight points in the closing minutes of the third period, grabbing a one-point lead going into the fourth. For another, they outscored the Pistons 35-24 in the final period.

Then too, newly acquired forward Happy Hairston, whom the Pistons hope will bolster their offense, was ejected midway through the third period for throwing the ball at a referee.

The loss was the fourth straight for the Pistons. Eddie Miles scored 29 points for Detroit, while Sam Jones with 31 points was high for Boston.

Nats Decision Eben's Eagles

EBEN — The Eben Eagles, state after missing two scheduled games because of bad weather, dropped a narrow 55-52 nonleague tilt to National Mine here Tuesday night.

A big first quarter bludge, 17-7, led the Nats to victory although the Eagles caught up at 40-40 early in the fourth quarter.

Leon Lampi of National Mine took individual scoring honors with 21 points while Paul Salminen paced Eben with 17.

Eben won the jayvee game, 11-3.

American Skater Surprises

Olympic Silver For McDermott

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Terry McDermott, given no chance to repeat as gold medalist in the men's 500-meter speed skating race, whizzed over a sun-soaked rink today and grabbed the United States' fourth silver medal in the Winter Olympic Games.

In tying Magne Thomassen of Norway for second place, twentieth of a second behind winner Erhard Keller of West Germany, McDermott needed a greater effort than in 1964 when he won the Americans' only gold medal in the Innsbruck, Austria, Games.

Brighten Spirits
Shortly before the 27-year-old sprint skater from Birmingham, Mich., joined three female speed skaters as silver medalists, Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., moved into second place after four of the five compulsory figures in men's figure skating competition.

Redskins Crack Century Figure For Fifth Time

CARNEY — The redhot Redskins of Hermansville reached a torrid peak here Tuesday night with a 116-99 Big Six Conference verdict over the Carney Wolves.

Coach Don Hill's cagers soared over the century mark for the fifth time this season as they fashioned their 14th victory in 15 starts.

The deadly Redskin gunners hit 58% of their shots from the field, 43 of 74, and pumped home 30 of 35 from the free throw line. The Wolves were pretty hot themselves, hitting 39 of 83 for 47% from the floor and 21 of 26 from the stripe.

Randy Fochesato led the Redskins with 39 points off 11 field goals and 17 of 20 free throws. His 5 foot 11 inch running mate, John Whitens, pumped in 32 while Mike Raiche hit 20 and Dennis Grenier 18.

Tim Moran led four Carney cagers in double figures with a 35 point explosion.

Carney took the jayvee game, 76-45.

Final Frustration Hits American Ski Team In Winter Olympic Games

CHAMROUSSE, France (AP) — "We wouldn't have been surprised if our skiers had started falling out of the chair lifts," Bob Beattie, coach of the U.S. Alpine team, said today. "I've never seen such atrocious luck."

For a brief moment Tuesday, it appeared that America's run of misfortune on the Alpine slopes here may have found a golden rainbow. After the first of two runs in the ladies' special slalom, the U.S. girls were placed at 1-2-4-6.

The Olympic gold medal looked better than possible. To it might be added the silver, or even a sweep.

Picture Changes

Then in the bat of an eyelash, the picture changed. Wendy Allen of San Pedro, Calif., who had the fastest time of all, had missed a gate. So had Rosie Fortna of Warren, Vt., who was fourth, and Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore., sixth. All disqualified.

Only 16-year-old Judy Nagel was left but she led the parade with a narrow eight-hundredths of a second lead over Marielle Goitschel, the favorite, and 26-hundredths over world champion Nancy Greene of Canada.

There still was hope for a medal. Then Judy, in her first major international competition, became tense and fell twice before reaching the fourth gate. Instead of a medal, the American skater was left with frustration.

The combination brightened U.S. Olympic spirits that had been dampened Tuesday by the hard luck four girl skiers had experienced in the special slalom.

All four had high placings after the first run, but three were quickly disqualified for missing gates and the fourth fell early in the second run.

Given little chance to defend his title successfully, McDermott was considered even out of the running for a medal when he drew the last starting position among the 48 skaters.

By the time his turn came, the hot sun had created pools of water over many sections of the rink, and everyone expected the final finish to have Keller first with 40.3 seconds, Thomassen second with 40.5 and Russia's Eugeny Grishin third at 40.6.

Came For Medal

But McDermott steamrolled away from the starting gun, accelerated down the back straightaway, rounded the final bend perfectly and with head and arms flaying, crossed the finish line in 40.5 seconds for a share of second place and the silver medal.

"I didn't come back to the Olympics just to skate," McDermott said afterward. "I wanted to win a medal. I didn't really know if I could do it. I was coming along slowly but surely and knew I had to put everything into one race."

"I didn't really have the kick I had in 1964. I guess myself and the desire to win were the big things."

Asked if he thought he could have won the gold medal again with an earlier start, before the sun had softened the rink, he replied only, "The early ones did have better ice."

Lost Stride Once

He said he lost his stride once in the first stretch and almost stumbled on the home stretch. Either of these errors could have cost him the two-tenths of a second that were the differ-

Michigan Spills Illinois Quint In Big Ten Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Bob Sullivan and Dennis Stewart led a last half charge Tuesday night that gave Michigan a 67-45 upset Big Ten basketball victory over Illinois.

The loss jolted the Illini to 4-3 in the title chase while the Wolverines captured their second victory in eight conference games.

In the only other Big Ten contest, Minnesota engineered an 85-80 home-game triumph over Northwestern.

The games dropped Illinois, now 4-3, into a tie for fourth place with Purdue, and Northwestern, now 5-3, into a tie for third place with Wisconsin.

Neither of the two victors of the evening are in contention for the title race. Michigan now has a 2-6 league record, while Minnesota is 2-7.

Ohio State remains on top with a 6-2 mark. The games Tuesday moved Iowa, which was idle, into second place with a 5-2 record.

More shuffling may come Saturday when Ohio State goes to Minnesota, Purdue to Illinois, Wisconsin to Iowa, Michigan to Indiana.

Illinois led 36-27 at halftime but Michigan finally went ahead 48-47 with 12:15 to go. The Wolverines clung to the lead until 7:02 when a pair of free throws by Denny Pace put the Illini ahead 55-54. From then on, the lead changed hands three times before Jim Pitts made two quick baskets on steals that put Michigan on top 64-61.

Randy Crews' two free throws at :48 put Illinois ahead 65-64. Then Sullivan hit a long shot and later followed with a free throw as Pace was charged with the foul to seal the final score.

Sullivan topped the Wolverines with 18 points while Pitts made 15. Dave Scholz headed the Illini with 18 while Crews added 16 and Jodie Harrison 15.

Tom Kondia poured in 29 points in leading Minnesota to its upset over Northwestern.

Kondia, who had averaged 31 points in the last three games, fouled out with 3:16 to go against the Wildcats, but they couldn't rally. LeRoy Gardner added 19 points for the Gophers, who outscored Northwestern 52-42. Dale Kelley topped the Cats with 27 points and Jim Sarno contributed 17.

enue between the gold and silver medals.

"McDermott's performance was just out of this world. He was just terrific," said U.S. Coach Ken Henry.

That the sun had a vital effect on the outcome could be seen from Keller's performance. The 23-year-old Munich dental student has an unratified world record of 39.2 seconds, but he couldn't even get down to the 40.1 Olympic record that McDermott set four years ago.

Neil Blatchford of Northbrook, Ill., who had been expected to do much better than McDermott, lost his stride and stumbled rounding the final bend. He finished in 40.7, good only for a three-way tie for fifth with John Wurster of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Agne Herjувunet of Norway.

Tom Gray of Milwaukee tied for 21st in 41.6.

Of his mishap, Blatchford said, "It was just one of those things, but I was sure mad."

Keller, whose reputation as a speed skater started growing only after the Innsbruck Games, was disappointed in his time but said, "Who cares what time you win in when you win a gold medal? To finish first is the only thing even if you take a month."

Rapid River Title Hopes Jolted By Perkins Cagers

RAPID RIVER — The Perkins Yellowjackets stung Rapid River's Central League championship hopes with a 67-60 setback here Tuesday night.

The defeat threw the league race wide open with Rapid River, Trenary and Big Bay de Noc in the running. All three have suffered three defeats in league action.

Coach Vern Nelson's Jackets fashioned their second victory of the season over the Rockets with a stirring second half rally.

Rapid zoomed to a 21-12 lead in the first period and had a 38-30 cushion at halftime.

With Art VanDamme and Paul McNutt at the throttle the Perkins quint engineered a 20 point comeback in the third frame and clinched the decision by outscoring the Rockets by a 17-12 margin in the finale.

VanDamme finished with individual scoring honors on nine buckets and three free throws for 21 points. Joe Couillard added 19 and McNutt 15. Four Rapid River players reached double figures headed by Allan Passi with 18 points, all from the field.

A strong game on the boards and a hustling defense gave

Perkins its sixth straight victory and 10th against five defeats for the season.

Rapid River won the jayvee game, 74-39.

Duffy Considers Filing Suit Against Newspaper

EAST LANSING, (AP) — Michigan State Football Coach Duffy Daugherty said Tuesday he is considering filing a libel suit against a student newspaper that said treatment of MSU athletes may have violated Big Ten rules.

Daugherty said he hadn't decided whether to file such a suit, but would leave the decision up to an attorney.

The newspaper, the Michigan Daily, student organ of the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, was asked about Daugherty's statement, and managing editor Steve Wildstrom said, "We have no comment other than that we will stand by our stories."

The stories involved were written by Clark Norton, the newspaper's sports editor, who cited certain acts he said had taken place involving Michigan and Michigan State athletes in possible violations of Big Ten rules.

Layne, Young In Grid 'Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Layne, Claude "Buddy" Young, Clark Shaughnessy and six others have been named to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame.

Chester LaRoche, president of the hall, said the nine would be inducted into the hall Dec. 3 at a banquet in New York.

The others to be inducted are Claude Mont Simmons, Johnny Pingel, the late Eddie Casey, Adam Walsh, Albert "Ox" Wistert and Henry Ketcham.

Layne, quarterback for the Detroit Lions for many years, played three backfield positions for the University of Texas. Young, a top running back at Illinois, played for several professional teams.

Shaughnessy was coach at Stanford where he developed the T-formation that in 1940 gave the Indians an unbeaten season. Simmons was a great running back at Tulane. Pingel was a triple-threat halfback for Michigan State and Casey was a back at Harvard.

Walsh was on the line at Notre Dame, where he captained the team in 1924. Wistert played at Michigan and on the line for the Philadelphia Eagles for nine years. Ketcham was a lineman at Yale from 1911 to 1913 and won All-American honors.

Because we cannot thank each of you personally we take this way of thanking the many friends, neighbors and relatives who by acts of kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Edna Sharkey. We are especially grateful to Rev. Fr. Leno Zadra for his comforting words, the staff on 3 South at St. Francis Hospital, Mr. and Mrs. John Skradski, the Gladstone Florists, the ladies who served lunch, all who sent cards, flowers, spiritual bouquets, and other gifts, brought food to the house, the pallbearers, those who donated cars and the drivers and all others who helped in any way. Manistique News

School Election Officials Named

Three election officials for Friday's school election were approved by the Manistique Area Board of Education at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. Hassel Osterhout was approved for Thompson Township, Mrs. Francis Cochran for Lincoln School, Manistique, and Mrs. Thurman Skarrit Jr. for Germfask Township.

Contracts were authorized for Mrs. Martha Cool and Mrs. Pauline Miller, both teachers. Mrs. Lois McGregor was approved as substitute teacher.

Norman Jahn was appointed as Area Board representative on the Community School Advisory Board, replacing Jeanne Larson, whose term is expiring.

A policy regarding lost and damaged property was adopted. The policy provides total reimbursement from individuals for damage to school property or a pro rate reimbursement on depreciated items.

Earl LaBrasseur was designated representative to the Intermediate School District budget meeting in Gladstone Feb. 27.

Approval of Mrs. Helen Halls' request to teach beyond retirement was granted. She teaches morning kindergarten at Fairview and afternoon kindergarten at Doyle.

Millage Needed For Books:

Sputnik Not Included In Manistique Texts

By BARBARA JOHNSON

Somewhere in the Manistique Area School District schoolchildren are using science textbooks with a publisher's edition date of 1949. Other books on health, English, reading and literature range from a 1946 edition date to 1960.

Can you imagine picking up a school textbook in social studies that has no reference to the assassination of President Kennedy or a science textbook that makes no mention of Sputnik I ushering in the Space Age in 1957?

Textbooks with these glaring omissions are today being used in the Manistique Area Schools. They are being used because the schools are attempting to "make-do" with inadequate textbooks.

Why? Because operational money was cut to the bone after voters denied two requests for additional operating millage.

In a joint statement issued by the National Education Association and the American Textbook Publisher's Institute, it was recommended that $14 per pupil be expended each year to keep books current.

In the Manistique Area School budget $2 is allotted for each elementary pupil and $7 for each secondary student.

Millage Lowest

Manistique area schools have an enrollment of 1,939 pupils. The district has the unique distinction of providing education for its youngsters with the lowest K-12 operational millage in the Upper Peninsula. A fiscal deficit of $20,000 for the current school year exists.

The Manistique area schools levy a total of 10.2 mills for operation.

Kingsford, a community comparable in size to Manistique, has an operational budget geared to a 19 mill assessment. The Kingsford School Board will request an additional 10 mills. Kingsford's deficit approaches $100,000.

Certain services were eliminated by the area board following last summer's millage defeat. However, local teachers and interested citizens donated approximately $10,000 of free services. The Teacher's Club recently advised the Area Board that these services will not be offered during the next school term.

Commenting on Friday's election, Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle said:

"We have encountered no organized opposition. Groups in the city and townships seem to be realizing their responsibilities and have assumed positions of leadership."

Proposal Backed

Some of the individuals and groups who have voluntarily supported the Area Board with public notice of endorsement include Msgr. F. M. Scheringer, Rev. Ingmar Levine, Rev. William Brauer, the Auxiliary Service Employees of the Manistique Area Schools, Knights of Columbus, Democratic party, Lincoln School PTA and the Fairview PTA.

In Manistique, qualified voters may cast their ballots at either the Lincoln School or Lakeside School. Township residents will vote at the various township polling places. The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Local Nurses Are Registered

Donna Vincent, Gail Grenier and Marilyn Faulkner received notice from the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation that they passed their state board examinations and are now registered nurses.

Miss Vincent is employed at Ypsilanti State Hospital as a psychiatric nurse. Miss Grenier is employed at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor and works in the intensive care burn unit. Miss Faulkner is employed at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor and works on the medical floor.

All are graduates of St. Luke's School of Nursing of Marquette Class of 1967.

Bay Cliff Film Here Thursday

The Bay Cliff Health Camp Committee of Schoolcraft County and other interested persons will meet with Mr. John Vargo, executive director of Bay Cliff, Thursday, Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in room 200 of the Manistique High School. He will present the "Bay Cliff Story" a new film strip which features Schoolcraft County Children in classes and therapy.

The local committee is headed by Mrs. Roland Hoholik, chairman, committee members: Mrs. Merle Wehner, G. Leslie Bouschor, Dr. Duane Waters, Rev. Ingmar Levine, David Kelly, David Rood, Mrs. Paul Larson, Mrs. John Moffat, Mrs. Bruce McKilligan, Mrs. Morris Laux, Mrs. Donald DeSautel, Mrs. J.P. Quick and Gerald Graphos, treasurer.

Veterans Back Millage Friday

The Schoolcraft County All Veterans' Committee has endorsed support of the millage election on Friday, says chairman Archie Carpenter. Proposed is a 5.5 mill levy for one year for school operation.

The resolution states: "We believe that the maximum educational opportunity for all young people is beneficial to them and to our country.

"We believe it is the obligation of all citizens and especially veterans, to support adequately those institutions and programs which are of benefit to youth and to the country.

"We believe that as veterans we must assume positions of leadership, and that we socially accept the goals and methods of financing them.

"We support the school election for operational money on Feb. 16, and to encourage our membership and all citizens to work and vote for favorable outcome on this election."

City To Modify Housing Plans

Manistique City Manager Robert Noe told the City Council Monday that the federal Housing and Urban Development Office, Chicago, has reviewed Manistique's budget application for a senior citizen's housing development and that it must be cut to comply with the federal budget.

As originally submitted, the application included 36 units at a cost of $16,005 per unit. Total cost of the development was estimated at $594,000.

Would Save $32,000

To implement the cutback, Noe proposed that the city donate the following services: Permit fees (inspection, etc.); administration costs; budget

Hospital

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were: Karen Wehner, Ida Caron Howard Buchman, William Cook, Trudy Buchman, Lorraine Johnson, Mary Gillam and Carol Hyland.

Logger Compensation Cost For Administration Eyed

LANSING — Senator Thomas Schweigert's start of inquiry into the cost of compensation insurance on loggers here Monday at the capitol resulted in:

1. An inquiry into the administrative cost of the workmen's comp program for woods workers.

2. An accent on safety as the most effective way of reducing the cost of such insurance.

Ron Meader of Mancelona, whose wood industries use 7 million board feet of timber a year, said that Northern Michigan's wood industries would be happy if they could earn a profit as big as the difference between what loggers have to pay for workmen's compensation in Michigan and that in Wisconsin.

Frank Hoholik

much to administer in Michigan as in Wisconsin? Schweigert obtained from David Dykhouse, state insurance commissioner, a promise to provide a breakdown of the 40 per cent cost of workmen's compensation insurance for administration.

Dykhouse said that rates for workmen's liability insurance are set in a similar manner in all states — by an experience rating bureau on the basis of claims made against insurers.

Wisconsin Cost Half

In Michigan in 1967 the workmen's compensation rate on loggers was $27.24 per $100 of payroll. In Wisconsin the rate was $11.39.

Michigan's $27.24 went $16.52 in cash payments to injured claimants, and $10.72 for administration costs. This administration included 10 per cent agent's fee to the person writing the policy, 10 per cent in dividends to the employers, 2.5 per cent to a contingency and profits fund, and the rest for attorney fees, transportation, audits, etc.

Michigan and Wisconsin total payrolls for timber harvest are about identical so the states afford a good comparison for logging safety and insurance costs.

Michigan in 1963-65 paid out $520,000 on 328 claims, 18 of them serious accidents, and Wisconsin paid out $206,000 on 504 accidents, three of them serious.

Michigan's insurance benefits are greater than those in Wisconsin. Maximum Michigan compensation (on a graduated scale) is $93 a week and Wisconsin's is $68 a week.

Only Wreckers Higher

Frank Hoholik said that the Province of Ontario, Canada, has and outstanding woods safety program which requires the wearing of hard hats and other safety apparel by woods workers. The program has reduced the Ontario loggers compensation insurance rate to $9 per $100 of payroll.

Dykhouse said "It is simple; when the accident claims go down; the rates go down."

He declared that any change in the funding of comp was a legislative decision. Schweigert said that a state subsidy on logger insurance should be explored and that a separation of rates for production of sawlogs and of pulpwood was worth inquiry.

Hoholik said that a demonstration project on logging safety to show how it could make logging more profitable was desirable. Such a project has been planned by Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., which Hoholik heads, as a Michigan project of the Northern Great Lakes Regional Commission.

The only higher rate for workmen's compensation mentioned at the conference was that for building wreckers; $36.30 per $100 of payroll.

U.P. Represented

The Upper Peninsula economy has a big stake in the inquiry. The U.P. interest was represented at the conference called by Senator Schweigert (R-Petoskey) and participated in by his colleagues, Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) by Frank Hoholik, president Manistique Pulp & Paper Co.; Alfred Troutt, supervisor, Hiawatha National Forest, and Merton Jensen, Sawyer-Stoll Timber Co. Troutt and Jensen are of Escanaba.

Mack asked why the insurance program costs twice as

Women Golfers Plan Program

The Ladies division of the Indian Lake Golf and Country Club will hold their winter meeting at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 17, at the home of Mrs. O. F. Smits. A good attendance is desired as plans for the summer will be finalized.

Preparations must begin for the U.P. Women's Golf Invitational to be held in Manistique in June.

Prayers Asked To Back Movie

The Escanaba Daily Press has received the following communication from the Manistique Ministerial Association.

To the Christian Community of Manistique:

It will be our unique privilege to see the truly fine film, "The Restless Ones," in Manistique on Feb. 23, 24, and 25. For the movie to be effective, preparation is required. Planning is essential to insure the success of this evangelistic effort, but only one thing will make it a success—the prayer of our good Christian people. Prayer is the backbone of this effort. Please pray that the film will be a success. Get on your knees now and every day until the movie has been shown.

Recognizing the need for private prayer in addition to community worship on Sunday, the Manistique Ministerial Association is sponsoring days of private prayer. On these days (to be determined by each pastor) the church doors will be open all day and into the night. Local parishioners and anyone else who is interested, will be able to offer one half hour of private prayer for the success of this showing. Your prayer—that God's work in the heart of man will be furthered by the showing of this film—will either make or break this actual presentation. Please do your part. Please pray!

The Manistique Ministerial Association.
